You Count.

The Constitution requires a census every 10 years to count all residents in the United States, regardless of background.

Not only is the census central to apportioning political power, but the data also influence the allocation of more than $1.5 trillion every year for services like schools, fire departments, and hospitals.

If we are in the streets, and on the news, and even in the polling booth, but not in the Census, we will find the things that we need are still missing. This is the time to get involved. The Census counts. So do you.
