But, lucky for you, we have an easy 2-step guide on how to accurately show our ethnic heritage.

1) Check off which box you feel best describes you. If you do not feel like any of them work, check off 'Some other race.'

Mid-April

The self-response phase is from mid-march to late-April. It is still Arab American Heritage Month, so be sure to incorporate both Arab American Heritage Month and the Census in all your online engagement.

“Dear ______,

There is no better way to celebrate Arab American Heritage Month other than ensuring all the Arab Americans you know are fairly and accurately counted. It’s simple, you can ask your family and friends, “Have you filled out your Census form?” and explain that in just 10 minutes they can contribute to an accurate count of Arab Americans in the United States.

This accurate count impacts the distribution of over $800 billion in federal funding for the next 10 years. It impacts the way districts are drawn, how many seats in the House of Representatives each state has, business decisions companies and small business make, and policy decisions on the local and state level. The Census decides which roads will be paved, which school districts your children go to, and financial aid for students in college. Making sure everyone in your household is accurately counted ensures all the resources your household may need get accounted for. Fill out your census here.

June

Post-Enumeration of the 2020 Census takes place. People who did not fill out their census forms will be contacted by Census Bureau workers to get an enumeration of households that did not respond. It’s also Immigrant Heritage Month – continue to publicize Non-Response Follow-Up efforts.

“Dear _____,

To those of you who participated in the 2020 Census, thank you. Your participation and work to ensure a fair and accurate count will benefit our community for the next 10 years. If you have not yet submitted your census form online, by mail, or over the phone, then don’t worry. You can still fill out your census form online.

Post-enumeration has begun and a Census Bureau worker will likely visit your home if you have not yet submitted your form. If you do not feel comfortable with a Census worker visiting you and going over the form with you, then be sure to submit your form online at this link. If you are unsure how to identify a census worker, you can use this resource or call 833-3DDOUNI (833-333-6864).
